~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ Comment: The chart presumably reflects conditions that existed prior to the recent reorganization of the East Zone police set-up, as indicated by the repeated use of the now obsolete term "Deutsche Verwaltung des Innern". As regards the alleged subordination of Dezernat D to the local NKVD office, we are inclined to doubt that it would be shown on an official chart. It is more likely that the author of the chart entered what he conceived to be the existing state of affairs in that respect. We know from another source reporting on conditions in Saxony-Anhalt that the designation Dezernat D was at least for a time officially applied to the political police branch of its Land police; it was, however, abandoned after it had been decided to remove the political police from the jurisdiction of the Land criminal police. If this be correct, the chart would depict conditions as they existed during that interim period. As regards Mielke's position, although it has not as yet been made official, the chart adds one more piece of corroborative evidence that he is head of the political police in the Soviet Zone.
